

Beck Is Called Back by Probers, Without Duff

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamster President Dave Beck faces a new round of questioning by Senate investigators next week without the legal services of former Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) announced last night he was summoned to appear May 8 for another public hearing before the special Senate committee investigating alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry. McClellan said the group would receive "further derogatory evidence" against the Teamster boss.

Beck and Duff agreed they had parted company. But they differed on what caused this.

Duff said he had "withdrawn" from Beck's employ. Beck said that he was dropping Duff and his law firm because the former GOP senator would not appear with him at the new hearing next week.

Arthur D. Condon, an associate of Duff, sat at Beck's elbow when the Teamster chief last was before the committee March 27.

At that time, Beck repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment, pleading it might end to incriminate him if he testified whether he had misappropriated some $320,000 of union funds for his personal use. Beck noted he was the subject of an income tax probe.

The Teamster chief irritated some members of the committee by referring again and again to Duff as his legal adviser. The senators said they were not impressed.

Chances for Ouachita Channel Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects for a 9-foot navigation channel on the Ouachita River in Arkansas and Louisiana have been improved somewhat by recent developments.

A restudy of the project by division Army Engineers has re-established its economic feasibility—that is, has shown that its benefits exceed its costs.

Maj. Gen. John Hardin, president of the Mississippi River Commission, an advisory engineer, discussed the project in a recent appearance before a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

He said his office has submitted a report on the project to the chief of Army Engineers.

"Under the recommendation we have recently submitted the project would have a benefit-cost ratio of 1.23 to 1," he said.

In running a check on Hardin's report, Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) was told by the chief of Army Engineers that the report had been received and that Hardin had been asked for additional "clarifying" information.

The proposed 9-foot channel project was authorized by Congress some years ago but never was started. In recent years engineers placed it in a category with projects to be restudied for a determination of economic feasibility.

This is the study which Hardin mentioned.

Approval of the report by the chief of Army Engineers would mean elimination of a roadblock for the project, now estimated to cost $21,700,000.

This year's budget submitted by President Eisenhower recommended $150,000 in planning funds for the project.

Wants Freeze Area on Disaster List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) has requested that Arkansas counties hit by a recent unseasonal freeze be designated as disaster areas.

Fulbright told Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday that reports indicate the peach crop was virtually wiped out in some areas and that strawberry losses will go as high as 40 per cent.

Farmers in counties bearing the disaster area designation are eligible for low interest government loans.

Fulbright urged quick action, saying that if the department delayed too long aid would not be effective.

U. S. Says Nuclear Tests Essential

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told Japan it is "essential" to the defense of the free world to continue nuclear tests, U.S. officials said today.

The formal note to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan was signed by Secretary of State Dulles and handed to Charge d'Affaires Takezo Shimoda last weekend.

Official sources said the message replied to a note delivered by Shimoda on his arrival here in March.

New Disaster Area Along Sabine River

DALLAS (AP) — A new disaster area was declared on the lower Sabine as the flooding river surged downstream at record heights today threatening to inundate for the second time in four years the small community of Deweyville.

The 1,000 residents of the Newton County town, 10 miles north of Orange, Tex., were standing by to evacuate if necessary. The town was hit by a flood in 1953.

Heavy cloudbursts soaked the Trinity River watershed in north central Texas, causing flash floods in the Dallas area. A new flood warning was issued for the Trinity as it began a rapid rise.

The rains spread over much of the eastern half of the state in varied amounts, but except for the Sabine and Trinity, the flood threat was easing along other rivers, but water was still high.

On the upper Sabine, several hundred oil wells in the petroleum-rich Gladewater area were flooded and shut down as high water crept out around the southwestern edge of town. Officials said, however, they thought the peak crest was passed.

Possibly two drownings were blamed on high waters, making a total of at least 16 since the heavy rains began causing trouble in Texas two weeks ago.

Delmer Lee Luke, 17, Burkburnett, and his horse drowned while swimming in rain-swollen Paradise Creek near Vernon.

Ronnie Wyatt 16, Longview, disappeared while fishing flood waters of the Sabine south of Longview.

More than 9,000 persons have been forced to flee before rising waters. State disaster headquarters estimate now that more than 35,000 acres of land are flooded.

Officials designated the entire area of Newton County as a disaster area after mapping plans for full scale evacuation of Deweyville.

The river crested at 14.37 feet last night and was expected to reach 15.5 feet today and 16.3 feet tomorrow.

John W. Simmons, executive vice president and general manager of the Sabine River Authority, said there was no immediate threat to the city of Orange.

"We're just sweating it out as long as we can," said Claude Villameze, 40, a Gulf Oil Co. employee at Deweyville.

More than 2½ inches of rain soaked Dallas last night, flooding at least 34 streets in low-lying areas. More than 150 persons had to be evacuated for a temporary shelter when the hard rain flooded a small section in East Dallas.

The Weather Bureau said the Trinity River at Dallas was on a rapid rise and was expected to hit 34 feet today six feet over flood stage, but below major flood stage of 38 feet.

Police Sgt. Melvar Farrar said the situation was under control at Gladewater, although scattered rain fell again last night.

To Retire Highway Workers Over 70

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission today ordered that all employees 75 or older be retired next Dec. 31.

After June 30, 1958, an employee who reaches the age of 70 will be retired at end of the month during which the age is attained.

The commission reserved the right to continue employment of professional engineers and other key workers on a year to year basis because of shortage of some technical personnel.

The commission today also set salaries for various classes of employees, beginning at start of the next fiscal year July 1.

The salary of Highway Director Herbert Eldridge was set at $16,500 annually in contrast to the $18,000 maximum fixed by the 1957 legislature after a controversy on the matter.

Eldridge's current salary is $15,000 annually.

The commission fixed hourly wages of $1.20 for unskilled workers; of $1.20 to $1.50 for intermediate; and of 1.50 to 1.05 for skilled employees.

The minimums in each classification conform to the scale set by the Legislature.

Half of Poison Murders Each Year Are Unsolved

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — If you suspect someone is poisoning you in your evening yogurt, cheer up.

It may not be, as your friends insist, a delusion. You might be right.

Dr. Theodore C. Osius, writing on the history of poisoning in the University of Michigan's "Medical Bulletin," says: "It is estimated that 50 per cent of murders are unsolved each year, and it may be that secret poisoning is even now far more frequent than is generally believed."

The reason for the popularity of poison as a murder weapon throughout all the ages of man is not, as is often supposed, because even when poisoning cases come to trial, the medicolegal problems make it difficult to reach a clear verdict," he says.

An early knowledge of poisons is a hallmark of almost any civilization; indeed, it is a test of civilization.

Dr. Osius points out that Menes, the first Pharaoh — 3,000 B. C. — was familiar not only with mineral poisons but also such vegetable poisons.

Poison has at times been used as an instrument of government policy from the heyday of the ancient Greeks to Naz Germany.

During the 16th and 17th centuries in Venice, the government even officially recorded its poison victims, and the fees paid.

One specialist in murder, John H. Ragusa, offered a selection of poisons and proposed victims," writes Dr. Osius.

"Five hundred ducats was his price for a great Sultan, 150 for the King of Spain, 50 for the Duke of Milan, 30 for the Duke of Burgundy."

Border Clashes Bring Emergency in Nicaragua

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — President Luis Somoza and other top Nicaraguan officials held emergency talks throughout the night on the first fatal clash reported in Nicaragua's bitter border dispute with Honduras.

Somoza, who took office yesterday for a six-year term, told an inauguration audience of 45,000 that Honduran forces attacked the village of Mocoron in the frontier zone, killing 25 Nicaraguan soldiers. Officials later said 35 Nicaraguans had been killed.

Somoza said five Honduran planes strafed a Nicaraguan post during the attack. He warned that if Honduras continued what he called its "aggressive" attitude, the "whole of Nicaragua and the national guard will know how to defend its national integrity."

A statement from the Honduran government in Tegucigalpa said Mocoron had been "recaptured" by Honduran forces and there had been casualties.

Tension gripped Managua. Radio stations broadcast denunciations of Honduras and reported the names of volunteers for military duty. Youths raced through the streets in a wave of patriotic fervor.

Somoza held conferences with his brother the army chief of staff, Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr.; other high ranking military officers, and Cabinet members. He also met with U. S. Ambassador Thomas E. Whelan.

In Tegucigalpa, the Honduran government said its air force units had recaptured Mocoron, and the "first Honduran heroes fell."

It gave no details.

One report said Honduran planes were sent to the area after word was received that Nicaraguan planes had flown to the region to support Nicaraguan ground forces. Honduras has charged that 50 Nicaraguan soldiers invaded the territory it claims April 19.

Earlier, the border situation appeared to be cooling off. "Nicaragua had canceled orders mobilizing reserves and moving troops to the border."

Shortly before his inauguration Somoza ordered a message sent to all other American governments declaring Nicaragua's policy is based on nonaggression. In his inaugural speech he pledged his government to seek a solution of all problems through "peaceful" means.

New Show of Arab Unity Is Predicted

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials believe that Saudi Arabia and Jordan will join Egypt and Syria soon in creating a new show of Arab unity despite their recent political conflict over Jordan's fate.

This prospect was advanced here today as one reason by the United States has not directly blamed Egyptian President Nasser for his role in the Jordanian crisis.

U. S. policy and propaganda accounts the desires and purposes of the Arab states are designed to take into King Saud of Saudi Arabia and King Hussein of Jordan. American officials say they do not believe real unity can be restored among the four but if Saudi and Hussein want to play Arab politics that way the United States evidently will not interfere.

Furthermore, officials do not want to get this country's policy in a position where the two Arab rulers would cut the ground from under it. That would happen if the kings showed outward friendship for Nasser and Syrian President Hafez al-Assad when Washington was blaming the Arab presidents for much of the trouble.

Officials also feel that any outright U. S. attack on Nasser tends to strengthen his internal position in Egypt. With the control of the Suez Canal now completely in his hands, Nasser is in position to make trouble for the West if he wants to.

Red River Is Falling Slowly at Fulton

Red River at Fulton crested at 30.82 feet late yesterday afternoon but didn't start falling until this morning, Miss Ina Logan, official river recorder said today.

The noon reading Thursday was 30.89 feet and its still falling. However, farmers of the area are extremely alarmed over notification that water is now being let out of the Denison, Texas Dam.

Although the water from the Dam probably won't cause a rise, it will force a slow fall which would be extremely harmful to farms around Fulton.

There was some indication that protests will be launched by farmers.

Colson Corp. to Be at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, (UP) — The name of the company which will occupy an $800,000 manufacturing plant here was revealed yesterday.

Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce Manager A. M. Herringer said the Colson Corp., a subsidiary of the Great American Industries of Elyria, Ohio, is the firm.

Name of the concern had been withheld until yesterday.

The plant is expected to be finished by Sept. 1 and will initially employ about 225 workers.

The Jonesboro Industrial Development Association put up $500,000 for the plant and site in cooperation with the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

The Colson Corp., manufactures metal products such as mechanical lifts and stacking devices used in other manufacturing and ware-houses.

Army Seeking to Ditch Spa Hospital

By GORDON BROWN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army again has made it clear to Congress that it opposes continued operation of Army-Navy Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., and Murphy General Hospital, Boston.

In fact, Secretary of the Army Brucker has asked that Congress review its insistence that the two hospitals be continued in operation.

Brucker testified recently before a House appropriations subcommittee considering funds for the Defense Department. The subcommittee today made public a record of the hearings.

For three years the Army has sought to close the two hospitals. But Congress, at the insistence of members of the congressional delegations from the two states, has resisted. Last year, in the case of the Army-Navy Hospital, the House Appropriations Committee accused the Army of attempting to thwart the will of Congress by providing a minimum operation of the Hot Springs hospital.

The Army last year enlarged its staff and increased activity at the hospital.

Brucker, in his testimony, recalled the Army's previous attempts to abandon the two facilities.

Chickens Are Featured in Big Markets

By The Associated Press
Chickens and chuck roast, two old standbys of shoppers seeking a comparatively inexpensive main dish for their families' Sunday dinner, will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores this week end.

Chicken prices were somewhat irregular. Pork prices were cut 2 to 6 cents a pound in many areas and rib roast of beef also was lower in some areas.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture expects supplies of chickens, already high, to increase still further in the next few months. Hatchings during the first quarter were 6 per cent larger than last year.

This week new green cabbage is rated good to an outstanding buy, along with spinach, kale, green onions and radishes. Asparagus, too, is nearing the peak of its season with the big New Jersey crop added to the California variety available in the stores for several weeks.

Carrots, beets, parsnips and white turnips also are rated outstanding buys this week, while good buys may be found among iceberg and Romaine lettuce, sweet corn, escarole, chervil, eggplant, red and white varieties of potatoes from Florida, broccoli, peppers, cucumbers and salad greens.

Green beans also are good in some areas but have a wide range of quality and come in from the shopper must choose carefully.

Cauliflower, pascal celery, tomatoes and cypress and green squash are moderately priced in many areas.

For those who favor them, production of mushrooms is at its highest peak of the year with the crop expected to run somewhat ahead of last year's.

Rhubarb is figured to be the best buy at fruit counters.

Valencia oranges and limes from Florida, plus California navel oranges and lemons, give mothers plenty of fruit to squeeze for breakfast, or for the kids' refreshment when they come in from playing on warm afternoons. Several varieties of grapefruit—pink, red, marsh and Duncan — also are still rated as good buys.

Washington apples, Oregon pears and California avocados are more moderately priced.

Veto of Judge's Bill Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed today upheld Gov. Orval Faubus' veto of a legislative bill which would have deprived Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff of Hot Springs of full authority to select jury commissioners for his court.

Like other circuit judges, Huff now appoints the three commissioners who select juries in each of the two counties of his district — Garland and Montgomery.

Under the vetoed bill one commissioner would have been appointed by the circuit judge, a second by the chancellor and the third by the county judge.

Emerite Corp. Plans to Step Up Production

Purchase of the controlling interest in Southern Plaswood Corporation of Hope by Emerite Corporation of Jackson, Miss., was announced today by Hope Chamber of Commerce. Negotiations were completed May 1.

Wade W. Hollowell and Don Camper, officials of Emerite Corporation, revealed plans at a chamber of commerce meeting to substantially increase both the present facilities and production of the plant.

Expansion plans call for installation of considerable process equipment, the additional employment of approximately 50 people which will permit 24-hour production.

Southern Plaswood Corporation began particle board production in January of 1950 and was the first plant of commercial size in the United States entering into the manufacture of particle board, said Mr. Camper, vice-president of the corporation, and immediate steps are being taken to introduce the Emerite process into Southern Plaswood's manufacture.

Particle board utilizes wood waste as the principal raw material to produce "man made" board used in the home construction and furniture industries.

Also attending the meeting at the Chamber office were Guy E. Basye and Ed J. O'Gran of Hope, present officials of the Plaswood plant, who have visited the laboratories of the Emerite Corporation, and Lee Orlert of Little Rock, an insurance executive.

An interesting sidelight, developed at the meeting when it was revealed that Mr. Hollowell of the Emerite Corporation is also the president of the Mississippi River Valley Association, long interested in water and soil conservation and a booster for Millwood Dam.

Chamber of Commerce officials pledged their cooperation and support to the new concern, which will mean additional employment and an economic uplift for this city.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Red River is roaring into all lakes south of Fulton including Clear Lake and when the water goes down not only will the lakes be cleaned out but will be restocked with fish — that's the way fishermen would like them to be.

A few in the Springhill area, including landowners surrounding Lower Red and Clear, are kicking around an idea that would benefit both lakes. The idea is to divert part of Bois d'Arc Creek into Lower Red, on through Clear Lake, Cypress, Tupelo Gum and 1927 Cut-off and back into the river. It actually wouldn't take much to turn the trick if enough fishermen got behind the idea and its possible Game and Fish Commission would be willing to go along.

Miss Carolyn Story of Hope was initiated into Sigma Sigma Sorority, and in student body elections Lyda Brown of Hope outpolled John Bray of Hot Springs for the vice-presidency, and in the race for president of the 1957-58 sophomore class Don Bailey of Hope received a majority over Bill Andrews of Hope.

Man Questioned in Yellville Burglary

YELLVILLE, (AP) — State Police Sgt. Otto Griffin says a Colorado man is being sought in connection with attempted burglary of the Bank of Yellville.

During the attempt, Sheriff Jack Pace was shot in the arm twice. Griffin identified the man being sought in the Sunday night incident as Christ K. Dart, 24-year-old Denver, Colo., resident who is a native of Yellville.

Griffin said yesterday that a car loaded with guns, groceries and camping equipment which was found at Buffalo River State Park near here last Monday belonged to Dart. The officer added that Dart had been seen recently at Yellville.

Griffin said the weapons in the car were stolen at Denver.

Dart is believed to be carrying at least five pistols, Griffin said, including a magnum 357 "one of the most powerful pistols made."

The officer said Dart is an expert marksman. He said Dart's mother worked for a short time at the Bank of Yellville, the only bank in this north central Arkansas town.

Pace was shot when he surprised two men at the bank. A third man was believed to be waiting in a car. Nothing was taken from the bank.

County officers near the park area were keeping a check on the area today, but the intensive search was interrupted so that officers could get some sleep.

3c Sales Tax Fails to Get Sum Expected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The new 3 per cent Arkansas sales tax failed to produce as much money as expected in May.

But state Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney says it was because rainy weather curtailed business during that month.

The 3 per cent rate brought in $871,000 more than the amount collected in March 1956 under the old 2 per cent figure, but to come up to predictions the new rate should have produced an additional $1,300,000.

Cheney said yesterday that farming and outdoor business of all kinds suffered because of March's wet weather. He cited evidence of this a $200,000 drop in motor fuel revenues.

Declines to Reveal If Tipster Is Known

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) declined today to say whether Senate investigators know the identity of an anonymous telephone caller whose tip started a spurge of buying in Northeast Airlines stock.

The stock spurted $3 a share last Aug. 3, the day after the Civil Aeronautics Board voted secretly to award the lucrative New York-Miami run to Northeast.

Jackson is acting as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee in its inquiry into indications that news of the award leaked out to the profit of stock market speculators.

The anonymous caller was brought into testimony yesterday by a Washington lawyer, Robert W. Oliver. He told the subcommittee he had received a telephone call about 11 o'clock the night of Aug. 2 from a man who told him the CAB had met that evening and awarded the New York-Miami route to Northeast.

Oliver is a member of the firm of Pogue and Neal, which represents Delta Airlines, one of the lines that competed with Northeast for the route.

CAB Director May Have Been Mystery Caller

By SAM HANNA

WASHINGTON, (INS) — An airplane company executive conceded today that former Civil Aeronautics Board Executive Director Raymond Sawyer might "possibly" have leaked a secret CAB decision to him last August.

Laurence Henderson, of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane Company in Ingersoll, Md., made the statement after first denying he had obtained from Sawyer information that the board would grant Northeast Airlines a coveted New York-to-Miami route.

The tip about the CAB's decision led a number of individuals to make immediate purchases of Northeast stock.

During questioning of Henderson, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), chairman of a Senate investigations subcommittee, told the witness: "You've already contradicted yourself twice this morning."

Henderson, who at the time of the CAB action was serving as assistant to the president of Trans-American airlines, first told the committee in an affidavit and in testimony that his information about the ruling was based on personal deduction after learning that Northeast stock was very active on the morning of Aug. 3, 1956.

Henderson claimed to have telephoned the investment firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Bohn, Inc. He said he then called Boston Broker Forrester Clark about 10:45 a.m. and told him the CAB apparently had decided in favor of Northeast by a 3-2 decision.

Henderson denied that the information came from Sawyer, and said he did not confer with Sawyer until the following week.

The committee then confronted him with a record of a telephone call made to Clark at 10:08 a.m. before the market became active.

The witness also ultimately agreed that Sawyer telephoned him on Aug. 3, the morning after the board had secretly voted to give the prized run to Northeast.

Jackson, noting that the report to Clark was made before the market registered an increase in Northeast stock, asked whether the "leak" might have come from from Sawyer.

Henderson replied: "Yes, that could have been the only other possible source of my information."

Henderson said the experience with the CAB and its rulings led him to deduce and to tell Clark that the ruling had been three to two, and that the certificate was for five years only.

NATO Hears U. S. to Carry Out Plans

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN
BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States assured its Atlantic allies today it intends to carry out 1957 defense plans in full.

Secretary of State Dulles told the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization he was conveying to them the personal decision of President Eisenhower, as given Dulles before he left Washington.

Dulles said Eisenhower instructed him to tell the NATO Council that no changes are contemplated in American plans as disclosed to NATO last December. This means the United States will not follow the recent example of Britain, which is cutting its forces in Europe and will reduce its armed forces by 50 per cent in the next five years.

The NATO ministers opened a three-day session with a brief public meeting at Bad Godesberg, followed by a closed session at the West Germany Foreign Ministry. Dulles spoke to the closed session and his statements were reported by persons who attended.

Dulles referred to fears that Britain's decision might touch off a chain reaction among the other NATO allies. He said this was not so in the case of the United States, although his country, like Britain, is placing increased reliance on the deterrent powers of atomic weapons.

Hogs in Bad Shape, Mitchell Declares

While the Porkers were going through a full 2 1/2-hour spring football workout yesterday, Mitchell lamented that the team had started out in good condition last week but injuries had taken a heavy toll.

He cited these injuries: Senior tackle Rollie Luplow of Parkin, possible broken arm; senior tackle Greg Pinkston of Edinburg, Tex., fractured wrist; junior end Bob Childress of Blytheville, injured eye; sophomore end Ben Brownstein of Newport, eye infection, and sophomore center Frank Pledge of Little Rock, knee injury.

NOT FOR JOHN DOE—Despite the anticipated life of more than 100 years for this replica of Thomas Edison's first practical incandescent lamp, General Electric officials say it is no bargain in actual light output per penny.

Ralph J. Cordier, General Electric president, turns on the light which will burn continuously on Edison's desk, now on display in lobby of GE's research laboratory at Schenectady, N.Y.

Sandra Dee Is a Perfect Teenager

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Sandra Dee turned 15 last week, she got staid for her birthday.

This may give you the impression she is not a typical teenager. You're so right.

She's about as pretty a 15-year-old as you'd ever find, with wavy blonde hair and features that can only be described as perfect.

As for the other differences, she has: Earned as much as 78,000 in one year.

Never had a date. Only been kissed once—and then in the line of duty.

Sandra's perfect face naturally led to a modeling career in New York. She started out at $25 per hour posing for magazine covers. One of her first jobs was posing as the other of a baby for the "American Magazine"—and she in her early teens.

She has the kind of a face that can be photographed to appear any age. Soon she was posing for all kinds of ads and mag covers. Filmed TV commercials could raise her take to as much as $1,500 weekly. She's done many of them, and each time they appear she earns another $50.

But Sandra had the yen to be an actress, so when the call came for a test with Universal International studios, she jumped at it. Her test turned out well, and she signed a contract. But she had to take a drop in earnings. She only gets $1,000 a week from the movies.

Three green test accounts for her first kiss. She had to go into a clinic with actor John Saxon. "I was scared to death," she recalled. "But once I got into it, it was easy. I liked it."

But still she has had no dates in her young life. How come? "I don't know," she replied. "For one thing, I've been too busy."

Paisley, Oglesby Have Part in Music Festival

Julia Ellis, Paisley 4th Grade will be crowned Queen of Spring by Linda LaGrossa, representing Rainbow in the Operetta, "Season of Happiness" in Hammons Stadium on May 7.

Assisting seasons will be Rose Ann Williams, Glimmer, Gary Don Joties, Wilkins, Charles Board, Autumn, Brenda Paris will portray Harvest and Anthony Pierce, Son. Paisley in cooperation with other schools of the city is offering the operetta for the 8th annual Music Festival.

Oglesby School Participates
Oglesby will again take part in the annual Music Festival sponsored by the Friday Music Club. Oglesby will have a part in the operetta, "The Season of Happiness," directed by Mrs. Eugene White of Paisley, Mrs. E. R. Brown of Brookwood, Mrs. Harold Hall of Garland, and by Mrs. James McLarty of Oglesby.

Those taking part are the following: Grade one—Donna Byers, Martha Ann Davis, Dorecia Enton, Sandra May, Nancy Kay Stephenson, Sandra Kay Sprague, Jenny Tolleson, and Margie West; Grade two—Linda Miller, Shirley McMillen, Jeannie Saunders, Molly Tolleson, and Janet Steadman; Grade three—Margie Waddle, Joyce Allison, Ruth Ann Ferguson, Marilyn Allen, Vicki Ballard, Ruth Ann Pool, Sherry Sprague, and Mary Cook; Grade four—Dorothy Rushing, Patricia Jones, Brenda Smith, and Linda Pendergraft.

Dear Dorothy Dix: For two years I have been corresponding with a soldier, whom I had met briefly before his induction. At first his letters were friendly, then they became warmer and finally he said he knew I was the girl for him. I answered that I had a high regard for him, but that was all. I sent him cake and cookies and wrote cheerful letters, but left no doubt in his mind that I was not serious.

As his homecoming drew near, he wrote me that he was anxious to see me, but when he returned home I didn't hear a word from him. Being curious, I called him. His mother answered and said I was to quit chasing her son.

I have an excellent reputation and my behavior has never met with criticism before. What changed the boy's attitude, and what has his mother got against me?

LORNA
Dear Lorna: Reverse the questions and I think you'll come up with an answer. Here, roughly, is the scenario as I picture it. Son comes home, tells Mom about the lovely girl who cheered him up. Mom is overcome by jealousy, sees girl as a siren who is luring her son away, sheds tears, son agrees to give up girl, girl calls, and Mamma lets her position be known. Curtain. End of play and romance.

Fortunately, your emotions were not too involved. You enjoyed a pleasant correspondence and cheered a lonely boy. So, in the final summing up, you're ahead of the game. You handled the situation very well.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Yesterday after work I met a girl I know and asked her if she'd like some coffee. We went into a restaurant. While we were having coffee another girl I know came in, and we invited her to join us.

What I'd like to know is, which girl should I have taken home? The first one lives quite a distance away, while the second girl lives on my block.

Dear D. A.: Actually there was no obligation to take either girl home, since this was a pre-arranged date. If you were expecting attached to one or the other, there would be our clue. Since both were casual acquaintances, your duty was done when you paid the check.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Three boys like me and I don't care too much for any of them. They keep asking which one I like best. Should I tell them frankly how I feel? I'd like to keep them in reserve if possible.

DEB
Dear Deb: There's no need to be blunt about it. Instead of saying you don't like them, say you like them equally and would like to be friends with them all.

Mantua, and 100 for the Pope." But he makes clear that the art of administering poisons has always been one field in which women have enjoyed equal rights. Often the female a fine species has been far deadlier than the male.

For example, a gal named Locusta was official poisoner in ordinary in the Emperor Nero, who even provided her with slaves to experiment on. She repaid him nobly by helping him bump off his stepbrother, his other and his wives.

But the queen of all lady poisoners was Toffana, a Renaissance vixen in Naples, who numbered among her 600 victims two Popes and a large number of socially prominent husbands whose only crime was that they bored their wives.

A real creative girl, Toffana's favorite poison was a cosmetic. Rub a little on your skin after shaving, boys, and—hello under-laker.

Somebody with political pull finally got annoyed at her fun-loving, girlish pranks, so they strangled her on the rack until she confessed, then strangled her for nearest male rival in modern times was Madame de French "Bluebeard" who obtained the life savings of 283 women by

TV Westerns Attract All the Family

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—Television's problem of attracting huge audiences to expensive shows is pretty evident in this season's fad for adult Westerns and adapted fantasy. For real commercial success, a show must appeal to the entire family, from Junior to Grandma, a large and frequently impossible age span.

In both the new-style Westerns and in such special shows as the recent two versions of "Cinderella," the medium has done a fine job of pulling the whole family into the living room. As the big comedy and variety shows have been doing year in and year out.

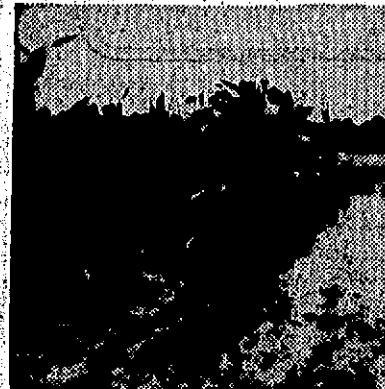

There's something for everybody in them. In the Westerns, the kids still have horses, gunplay and fights. Their elders get a little change from the kidnapped rancher's daughter and the stolen land in a buildup of psychological tensions (psychopathic villains have been very big in all types of TV this year).

Fairy tales have been a different dish. "Peter Pan" was a televised Broadway show, written expressly and adroitly to hold an adult audience with sly humor to eat the shimsy-poo. "Jack and the Beanstalk" and dancing, pleasant posing as a well-to-do widower. He abandoned some of his victims, poisoned others.

Oddly, since they practice the subtlest method of murder, poisoners are notoriously conservative about the poisons they rely on. They are rarely adventurous. "Unusual poisons are the exception," concludes Dr. Quinn, on a thing else again. "This one has note of disapproval. 'Throughout history the poisoner has used the same drugs and methods and has continued to make the same mistakes as his predecessors.'"

See how the extra value in Chilean Soda makes an extra good crop of corn. Chilean is a natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

and you'll choose CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

One hundred years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing corn, cotton and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency and consistently superior performance in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements which help to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing for corn, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate. If only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

Bid Taken on Rosston to Camden Road

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission today received apparent low bids totaling approximately $1,316,000 on 10 road and bridge construction projects.

Largest job in the comparatively small letting was for grading of the final length, entering Hot Springs, of the new highway between Hot Springs and Benton.

Approximately 100 bids were submitted for the 10 jobs.

Jobs by counties, with apparent low bidders and amount of their bids, follow:

Garland—2.56 miles of grading and minor drainage structures leading into Hot Springs on new Highway 88 between Benton and Hot Springs; Jeffrey Contracting Co., Inc., Fort Smith, $338,287.

Nevada—10.74 miles of surfacing on the Rosston-Camden Road, Highway 4; Linwood Smith, Lake Village, $204,036.

Pike—9.0 miles of surfacing on the Kirby-Army Road, Highway 84; Schmeckenbecker Brothers, Sweet Home, $130,527.

Sebastian—7.4 miles of resurfacing on Garrison Avenue between the Arkansas River Bridge and 10th Street, Fort Smith, along Highways 32 and 64; Forsgren Brothers, Fort Smith, $37,448.

Pulaski—189 feet of bridges over Otter Creek on frontage roads on Little Rock-Benton Road, Highway 70; John M. Smith, Little Rock, $35,995.

Clark—1,384 feet of remodeling and widening of three bridges on the Arkadelphia-Maryland Road, Highway 67; S. M. Dixon Co., Warren, $304,010.

Benton—1.31 miles of bridges and approaches at Flint Creek near Siloam Springs on Highway 99; A. K. McBride, Fort Smith, $105,619.

Franklin and Madison—17.36 miles of surfacing on Brashears-Ozark Road, Highway 23; North-west Arkansas Asphalt Co., Sulphur Springs, $69,560.

Boone—3.72 miles of surfacing on the Land Hill-Sugar Loaf county road; Northwest Arkansas Asphalt Co., $17,746.

Desha—3.51 miles of gravel base course on the Lacombe-Creole county road; Reynolds and Williams, Little Rock, $17,111.

Of the 44,957 copies of fingerprints received from local police in California in Sept. 1956, criminal identifications were made in 70.2 per cent of the cases.

music an dwas, as they say "motivated to make some sense out of Jack who, in the original version, was not off a thief and murderer but apparently a dope as well.

Since the fabulous success of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella" it's too soon to get a report on the audience of the Royal Ballet version (it's a cinch that plot hungry producers are searching the archives for more fairy tales.

Mother Goose, source of "Cinderella," has scarcely been touched yet—the Royal Ballet did its version of "Sleeping Beauty," but television dance is something else again. "This one" has what the trade calls a "thingy-story line" for musical show treatment. But there's plenty of "plot"—not to mention thrills—in "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Bluebeard."

Benton-Hot Springs Hi-way Programmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—First paving on the new road between Benton and Hot Springs was programmed by the Arkansas Highway Commission today.

It will extend from the end of the Hot Springs city section—for which a contract for grading was let today—approximately 23 miles to the junction of the interstate route of U. S. Highway 67.

Two lanes will be paved under today's order at an estimated cost of $866,000.

The new facility eventually will be a 4-lane road.

The commission also programmed replacement of Eight Mile Creek Bridge on Highway 135 in Greene County at an estimated cost of $36,000. The bridge was washed out by recent floods.

Girl Tells Police She Was Raped

TURRELL (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Ivan Dickson said today a 13-year-old white girl told him she had been forced into a car and raped by four young Negroes on a country road near here.

Dickson, who did not identify the girl, said she related this story: She left a group of teenagers at a Turrell cafe last Friday night after deciding to walk to her rural home alone. The Negroes made her get into the automobile, raped her, then left her with her arms bound after the car became stuck in heavy mud.

She walked to nearby Jericho, Ark., where a Negro woman called the sheriff's office for her.

The car later was found to have been stolen from a theater parking lot.

AHC to Ask Bids on Helena Bridge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission agreed today to ask for bids on the proposed Helena bridge across the Mississippi River as soon as plans have been completed, even though financing details have not been worked out.

After the bids have been received, "further action will be considered for financing of the project," a commission resolution said.

The resolution set out that cost estimates on the basis of current conditions exceed estimates on which previous financial arrangements have been made.

It said also that the Mississippi Highway Commission had advised that it would be unable to increase the amount of its participation in the proposed toll bridge.

"The Arkansas Highway Commission will consider increasing its participation, consistent with available funds and other requirements on the primary and user-batch system," the resolution said.

It added that the amount of additional financing necessary could not be determined until bids had been received and "band financing fully explored."

Civil Defense Director Will Speak on May 8
County Civil Defense Director John Wilson of Hope will be the guest speaker at a special Ground Observer Corps award ceremony in McCaskill Wednesday May 8. The meeting will be held in the community clubhouse at 7 p. m. Certificates and wings will be awarded to a group of G. O. C. members in this community. Large Crowd Attends Methodist Conference Wednesday, April 24, was a big day in McCaskill with a district meeting of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service in progress. Ninety-six persons were registered for the all-day event at the Methodist church. Mrs. M. E. Scott of El Dorado, conference president, was among the leaders attending. Mrs. J. O. Harris, president of the McCaskill W. S. C. S. gave the welcome address to the group.

An attractive spring luncheon was served in the community building. Theme of the luncheon was Methodist women's literature. Various samples of which were displayed on the tables which were decorated with colorful pansy centerpieces and miniature umbrellas festooned with headlines from the "Methodist Woman" and "World Outlook."

Mrs. P. C. Stephens of Blevins, district literature and publications chairman, was in charge of the luncheon decorations.

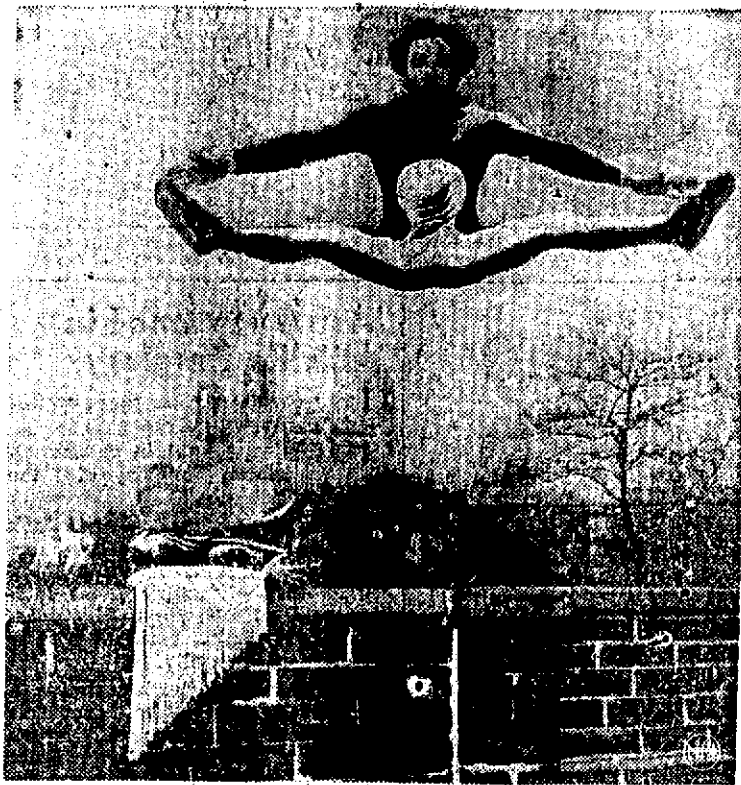

Preceding the afternoon adjournment, installation and pledge services were held for new officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Williamson and two sons from Waldo spent Easter Sunday visiting Mrs. Williamson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wortham.

Five McCaskill Youth Will Graduate May 10

Five McCaskill youth will be graduated from the Blevins High School on May 10. They are Miss Grecia Wortham, salutatorian of the class, Keith Rinehart, who ranks third high in the class, John Denton Prescott, Leon Long, and Jesse Barber.

Nineteen of the 21 seniors went on a "Sneak Day" trip to Hot Springs Saturday. Included in the adults going on the trip was Mrs. Orville Wortham of McCaskill. Wednesday the majority of seniors journeyed to Arkadelphia for "Reddie Day" at Henderson College. Mrs. J. G. Prescott of McCaskill was among those accom-

While the Porkers were going through a full 2 1/2-hour spring football workout yesterday, Mitchell lamented that the team had started out in good condition last week but injuries had taken a heavy toll.

He cited these injuries: Senior tackle Rollie Luplow of Parkin, possible broken arm; senior tackle Greg Pinkston of Edinburg, Tex., fractured wrist; junior end Bob Childress of Blytheville, injured eye; sophomore and Don Brownstein of Newport, eye infection; and sophomore center Frank Pledge of Little Rock, knee injury.

Junior quarterback James Monroe of Texarkana, Tex., returned to drill yesterday after missing part of last week's practice because of a bruised leg.

A Blytheville Air Force base Airman, 1-C Norman Parde, pulled the boy from the pool. More than two hours of effort by firemen, doctors and Air Force safety crewmen failed to revive the boy.

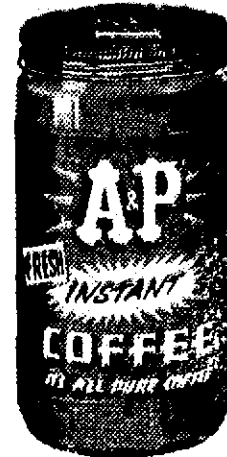

The Wickers have two other children.

Sandra Dee Is a Perfect Teenager

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Sandra Dee turned 15 last week, she got stoked for her birthday.

"This may give you the impression she is not a typical teenager. You're so right. She's about as pretty a 15-year-old as you'd ever find, with wavy blonde hair and features that can only be described as perfect. As for the other differences, she has: Earned as much as 78,000 in one year. Never had a date. Only been kissed once—and then in the line of duty. Sandra's perfect face naturally led to a modeling career in New York. She started out at $25 per posing for magazine covers. One of her first jobs was posing as the other of a baby for the late American Magazine—and she in her early teens. She has the kind of a face that can be photographed to appear any age. Soon she was posing for all kinds of ads and mag covers. Filmed TV commercials could raise her take to as much as $1,500 weekly. She's done many of them, and each time they appear she earns another $50. But Sandra had the yen to be an actress, so when the call came for a test with Universal International studios, she jumped at it. Her test turned out well, and she signed a contract. But she had to take a drop in earnings. She only gets $1,000 a week from the movies.

Three screen test accounts for her first kiss. She had to go into a clinch with actor John Saxon. "I was scared to death," she recalled. "But once I got into it, it was easy. I liked it." But still she has had no dates in her young life. How come? "I don't know," she replied. "For one thing, I've been too busy." At 15, Sandra is starring in a sequel to MGM's "Teen-Beats" movie, "John Saxon, Paul Newlan and Peter Laurie, in 'Mighty Young Soul.' The picture called for her to do her first dancing. She can't even rock 'n' roll. "I don't like it," she commented. "And Elvis Presley is not my type."

DOROTHY DIX

Mai Protects Sonny From Grabby Gals

Dear Dorothy Dix: For two years I have been corresponding with a soldier, whom I had met briefly before his induction. At first his letters were friendly, then they became warmer and finally he said he knew I was the girl for him. I answered that I had a high regard for him, but that was all. I sent him cake and cookies and wrote cheerful letters, but left no doubt in his mind that I was not serious. As his homecoming drew near, he wrote me that he was anxious to see me, but when he returned home I didn't hear a word from him. Being curious, I called him. His mother answered and said I was to quit chasing her son. I have an excellent reputation and my behavior has never met with criticism before. What changed the boy's attitude, and what has his mother got against me?

LORNA
Dear Lorna: Reverse the questions and I think you'll come up with an answer. Here, roughly, is the scenario as I picture it. Son comes home, tells Mom about the lovely girl who cheered him up. Mom is overcome by jealousy, sees girl as a siren who is luring her son away, sheds tears, son agrees to give up girl, girl calls, and Mamma lets her position be known. Curtain. End of play and romance. Fortunately, your emotions were not too involved. You enjoyed a pleasant correspondence and cheered a lonely boy. So, in the final summing up, you're ahead of the game. You handled the situation very well.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Yesterday after work I met a girl I know and asked her if she'd like some coffee. We went into a restaurant. While we were having coffee another girl I know came in, and we invited her to join us. What I'd like to know is, which girl should I have taken home? The first one lives quite a distance away, while the second girl lives on my block.

Dear D. A.: Actually there was no obligation to take either girl home, since this wasn't a pre-arranged date. If you were especially attached to one or the other, there would be our clue. Since both were casual acquaintances, your duty was done when you paid the check.

Dear Dorth Dix: Three boys like me and I don't care too much for any of them. They keep asking which one I like best. Should I tell them frankly how I feel? I'd like to keep them in reserve if possible.

DEB
Dear Deb: There's no need to be blunt about it. Instead of saying you don't like them, say you like them equally and would like to be friends with them all.

Mantua, and 100 for the Pope." But he makes clear that the art of administering poisons has always been one field in which women have enjoyed equal rights. Often the female a fine species has been far deadlier than the male.

For example, a girl named Lorna was official poisoner in ordinary to the Emperor Nero, who even provided her with slaves to experiment on. She repaid him nobly by helping him bump off his stepbrother, his other and his wives. But the queen of all lady poisoners was Toffana, a Renaissance vixen in Naples, who numbered along her 600 victims two Papes and a large number of socially prominent husbands whose only crime was that they bored their wives. A real creative girl, Toffana's favorite poison was a cosmetic. Rub a little on your skin after shaving, boys, and—hello under-liner. Somebody with political pull finally got annoyed at her fondling of girlish pranks, so they strangled her on the rack until she confessed, then strangled her. Her nearest male rival in modern times was Lucretia, the French "Bluebeard," who obtained the life savings of 283 women by

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission today received apparent low bids totaling approximately $1,316,000 on 10 road and bridge construction projects. Largest job in the comparatively small letting was for grading of the final length, entering Hot Springs, of the new highway between Hot Springs and Benton.

Approximately 100 bids were submitted for the 10 jobs. Jobs by counties, with apparent low bidders and amount of their bids, follow:

Garland — 2.96 miles of grading and minor drainage structures leading into Hot Springs on new Highway 88 between Benton and Hot Springs; Jeffrey Contracting Co., Inc., Fort Smith, $338,287.

Nevada — 10.74 miles of surfacing on the Rosston-Camden Road, Highway 4; Linwood Smith, Luke Village, $204,036.

Pike — 9.0 miles of surfacing on the Kitz-Army Road, Highway 84; Schmeckenbecker Brothers Sweet Home, $130,527.

Sebastian — 74-mile of resurfacing on Garrison Avenue between the Arkansas River Bridge and 13th Street, Fort Smith, along Highways 22 and 64; Forsgren Brothers, Fort Smith, $37,448.

Polaski — 180 feet of bridges over Otter Creek on frontage roads on Little Rock-Benton Road, Highway 70; John M. Smith, Little Rock, $35,995.

Clark — 1,384 feet of remodeling and widening of three bridges on the Arkadelphia-Malvern Road, Highway 67; S. M. Dixon Co., Warren, $304,010.

Mother Goose, source of "Cinderella," has scarcely been touched yet—the Royal Ballet did its version of "Sleeping Beauty," but television dance is something else again. posing as a well-to-do widower, he abandoned some of his victims, poisoned others. Oddly, since they practice the subtlest method of murder, poisoners are notoriously conservative about the poisons they rely on. They are rarely adventurous. "Unusual poisons are the exception," concludes Dr. Osiris on a note of disapproval. "Throughout history the poisoner has used the same drugs and methods and has continued to make the same mistakes as his predecessors."

Benton-Hot Springs Hi-way Programmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—First paving on the new road between Benton and Hot Springs was programmed by the Arkansas Highway Commission today.

It will extend from the end of the Hot Springs city section—for which a contract for grading was let today—approximately 28 miles to the junction of the Interstate route of U. S. Highway 67.

Two lanes will be paved under today's order at an estimated cost of $986,000.

The new facility eventually will be a 4-lane road. The commission also programmed replacement of Eight Mile Creek Bridge on Highway 135 in Greene County at an estimated cost of $36,000. The bridge was washed out by recent floods.

Girl Tells Police She Was Raped
TURRELL (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Ivan Dickson said today a 13-year-old white girl told him she had been forced into a car and raped by four young Negroes on a country road near here.

Dickson, who did not identify the girl, said she related this story: She left a group of teenagers at a Turrell cafe last Friday night after deciding to walk to her rural home alone. The Negroes made her get into the automobile, raped her, then left her with her arms bound after the car became stuck in heavy mud.

She walked to nearby Jericho, Ark., where a Negro woman called the sheriff's office for help. The car later was found to have been stolen from a theater parking lot.

AHC to Ask Bids on Helena Bridge
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission agreed today to ask for bids on the proposed Helena bridge across the Mississippi River as soon as plans have been completed, even though financing details have not been worked out.

After the bids have been received, "further action will be considered for financing of the project," a commission resolution said. The resolution, set out this cost estimates on the basis of current conditions exceed estimates on

One hundred years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing corn, cotton and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency and consistently superior performance in the field.

FISH FOR TROUT IN ARKANSAS!

Yes, sir! Trout abound along 50 icy miles of the upper White and Norfolk Rivers below Bull Shoals and Norfolk Dams. Furthermore, Arkansas trout grow larger than in their natural northern habitat. They fairly fly to dry flies, spinners, worms and myriad types of live and artificial bait. There will always be trout in Arkansas because the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service is building its largest hatchery at Norfolk, Arkansas, to produce 5,000,000 fingerlings annually. This is Arkansas—Vacation-land—and we're proud of it. It makes for better living.

The brewing industry in Arkansas is also proud of its social and economic contributions to a growing State, which make for better living, too.

THE STORY: Political angles begin to creep into the death of Anna Maria Pericoloso, who may have been murdered near Rome, Mio March, American insurance investigator, finds he is hampered by official pressure, and by an American gangster. Next he meets a Communist writer, who is seeking to discredit the government in the case, Piero Roccia, cooperative police detective, provides Mio with an unregistered gun to protect himself.

CHAPTER X

I buttoned my coat and took a look in the mirror. The gun didn't show. "Where are we going?" "I'm taking you a couple of places," he said as we left the room. "Since I'm sticking my neck out, I might as well stick it out a little farther. First, I will take you to see the girl's parents. Then we go to dinner. With a young lady."

"You a marriage broker on the side?" I asked.

He shook his head, grinning. "One of the rumors is that young Balena had thrown over Anna Maria for someone else. The only other girl he has been seen with in public is Glenna Blonda, a young movie actress. If she is his new interest, it may be dangerous to fool around with her. But I have arranged for her to have dinner with us."

"I don't know any cops who can produce movie actresses just like that."

"I know her only slightly," he said. "You are the bait which made her agree to join us."

"I knew that I was a handsome man," I said.

He laughed. "Signorina Blonda would especially like to go to Hollywood. I merely told her that you were a big American insurance man and pointed out to her that in America many motion pictures are actually financed by insurance companies."

"Not so big," I murmured modestly. "Only 185 pounds. What am I supposed to do now? Promise to cast her in the next topic I bankroll?"

"That is up to you. She is a way to get you into the company of young Balena and Cambero."

After driving through most of Rome, we finally came to a section of middle class apartment houses. Piero parked the Fiat in front of one of these and we went in. We walked up to the second floor and he knocked on the door. After a moment it was opened by a woman with a sadly beautiful face, its olive tones framed by pure white hair. She recognized Piero and we walked into the apartment.

A masculine counterpart of the woman stood in the living room. His back was bent with age that had been brought on too soon. His face was lined with wrinkles and his hair was white as the woman's. There were still calluses on the hand which I shook. These were Umberto and Therese Pericoloso, the parents of the girl who had died on the beach.

"I am not here because we want to make any trouble about the money," I said. "When we give insurance on a person, that person becomes like a member of our family. We are interested in what happens to him. That is why the company has sent me all the way from America. We would like to know what happened to your daughter."

"Anna Maria," said the father, "often did not feel well and when this happened she would go swimming in the sea during the night. She claimed that this helped her. It was this way the night that she died. He was picking his way among the words as carefully as if they all had sharp edges."

"Do you know how she went?"

She didn't have a car," the father said.

"Then how did she go to Ostia?"

"Perhaps a taxi," the father said. You could see that he didn't believe it. "Or perhaps a friend."

"Did you ever recover her clothes?"

They looked at each other again and I could tell that this was something that bothered them. Then, as though worked by a single string, they both looked at the detective. "Perhaps the police..." the mother said hesitatingly.

"The police don't have her clothes," I said. "I know how painful all this is to you, but if your daughter's death was not accidental, it's better that those responsible should be punished for it."

They looked frightened.

"I know that she went out with Riccardo Balena," I said. "Was he her only boy friend?"

"Oh, no," the mother said quickly. "Too quickly. She went out with many boys."

"Sure," I said soothingly. "Did she ever have any fights with young Balena?"

"No, no fights," the father said. "If we ever said anything about not wanting her to go out with him it was only because they came from different positions in life. He is the son of a fine man."

"Let me ask you something else," I said. "I know how people feel about this, but would you consent to having an autopsy performed on your daughter?"

"No," he said, almost shouting. "She is to be left alone. Enough has happened to her. Let there be no more. Even the dead have a right to rest."

The mother suddenly started to cry, her face screwed up in a pained mask. The old man put his arms around her, roughly patting her shoulders.

"Please go," he said over her shoulder. "I do not mean to be unfriendly, but please go. Anna Maria was our only child. There is nothing that can be done that will make her live again. Please leave us with our sorrow."

'Oscar' May Give Cupid a Boost
 By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This may be the first time that Oscar has given Cupid a boost. In Dorothy Malone's case, it could happen.

The pitch is this: In the past two years, Dorothy has made 10 pictures, with scarcely a breathing spell in between. This naturally forestalled any chance for romance.

"I could go out on the weekend while I was working," she remarked, "but it was impossible to date during the week. I had to study my lines and get up early in the morning."

But now she's the winner of an Academy Award and can afford to slow down her film-making pace. She has four big films finished and unreleased, so she doesn't have to worry about being absent from the nation's screens.

Having predicted the Oscar for her, I peered further in my crystal ball and told her there would be a man in her future.

"I don't know," she sighed, "it seems like a hopeless case."

Hopeless? There's something wrong with the American male if that is true. Dorothy's physical assets are obvious: a lovely face, wavy blonde hair, nifty figure. What's more, she's bright and breezy, a regular gal.

Only once has she come close to marriage. That was after her early film career had begun auspiciously and then fizzled. She went back home to Dallas and fell in love with a local boy.

"We were very fond of each other," she said, "and so were our families. But we decided it just wouldn't work out for us to get married."

She came back to Hollywood and resumed her career, starting out slowly and proving herself in roles that grew in opposite Robert Taylor in "Tip on a Dead Jockey."

The ideal family is three children, says the Population Reference Bureau.

PSC Asked to Okay Gas Rate Contract

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission has been asked to approve a 5-year service contract which Acme Bribe Co., signed with the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

Acme was among several large gas users which protested a PSC order granting Acme a rate increase and it joined in appealing the decision to the state Supreme Court. The high court held early this year that the PSC used an improper method in approving the rate boost.

However, all but two of the protestants now have signed contracts similar to the one Acme yesterday asked the PSC to approve.
Under the contract, Acme would pay slightly higher prices — beginning next year — than Ark-La has permitted under the PSC rate increase. The bribe firm will pay a step rate, ranging from 30 cents for the first 1,000 cubic feet to 17 1/2 cents for all gas used over 300,000 cubic feet. After June 1958, all of the step rates will increase by two cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The only two rate increases protestants which have not signed similar contracts with Ark-La are Lion Oil Co., and Columbia Carbide Co.

Score Averaging Three Strikeouts Every Game

By JOE REICHLER
Of The Associated Press

Young Herb Score, Cleveland's sensational strikeout artist, appears primed to average at least three strikeouts a game for the third consecutive season.

No other pitcher has had such an average in one season.
In 1955, as a rookie, Score averaged 9.58 strikeouts. In '56, it was 9.59. Now he is striking out batters faster than ever — 10 a game.

The 23-year-old southpaw fanned a dozen in 6 1/3 innings yesterday before he was routed by Washington in the seventh but Cleveland fought back to nip the Senators 7-6.

The high-flying Chicago White Sox continued at full steam, rolling over Baltimore 9-3, increasing their first-place lead over runner-up Boston to two games.
The Red Sox, who had won six of seven on foreign soil, dropped a 7-5 decision in Kansas City. The New York Yankees whipped Detroit 7-4.

Milwaukee's Braves snapped back after Tuesday night's shutout loss, defeating the New York Giants 5-1 in 10 innings to retain their one-game margin over Brooklyn. The Dodgers trounced Chicago 7-2 behind the seven-hit pitching of young Don Drysdale.

St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 9-2 to take sole possession of third place. Wally Post singled in two runs in the top of the 18th inning to give the Cincinnati Redlegs a 5-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

A single by Vic Wertz, scoring two of Cleveland's three runs in the seventh, gave the Indians their come-from-behind victory.
In the upper half of the inning, Washington routed Score after he had held the Senators to one hit.

Don Mossi relieved Herb and Milt Bolling greeted him with a three-run homer to give the Senators a temporary 6-4 lead. Ray Narleski relief, picked up his third victory without defeat.

Minnie Minoza drove across four runs with a double, two singles and a sacrifice fly for the White Sox to help Jack Harshman gain his third triumph without a defeat.

Tony Kubek, the Yankees' brilliant rookie prospect, and Tommy Byrne, the veteran left-hander, teamed up to beat Detroit. Kubek hit his first major league home run, contributed two singles and scored twice. Byrne, an old Tiger nemesis, yielded relief innings to gain his first triumph.

Moore Gets Ultimatum From NBA

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — A pudgy three-ages-in-the-career of a baseball pitcher, says Milwaukee's Warren Spahn — "prospect," mainstay and suspect.

"At 36, I'm now in the suspect class, added the lean left-hander, who yesterday set down the New York Giants in 10 innings 5-1 to become the first pitcher in the majors to win four games.

"That is, let me fatter just once or have a couple of bad games and people will start suspecting
I'm getting to old."

Spahn, who having won 200 games now has set his sights on 300 victories, said he felt his greatest probe was to keep his bosses' attention riveted on his day.

Moore was 200 1/2 pounds, Kalb-ell 210.

The NBA released its ultimatum to the press in Chicago at just about the same time Moore was wrapping up his fight here. In brief, the NBA told Moore he'll face suspension unless he defends against New Yorker Tony Anthony "as scheduled" in Detroit June 7, and the U. S. boxing authority will vacate the title if he doesn't get around to making a defense by July 7.

"If I keep working hard, and they give me time to train," said Moore, "I may be ready in a month."

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who pumps his own fountain of youth with two deadly fists, today was headed for the greatest payoff of his miraculous career — a mid-July bout with welterweight champ Carmen Basilio.

Robinson, celebrating his 37th birthday tomorrow, was the marvel of the title realm after his fifth-round knockout last night of middleweight champion Gene Fullmer to become the first man ever to win the 160-pound title four times.

A 21 1/2 underdog, Robinson lured the 25-year-old Fullmer into false confidence in the nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium and then paralyzed him with a devastating left hook in 1:27 of the fifth round.

Fullmer, who had dehorned
Robinson a New York Jan. 2, foolishly abandoned his rusting, brawling tactics of that fight and thought he could match Sugar
Ray's flurry for flurry last night.

It didn't work.
The fight actually started in the fourth round. With less than a minute left, Robinson slashed Fullmer with a series of punches, climaxed with a left hook to the head. Instead of retreating, the West Jordan, Utah, toughie tried to prove with a burst of his own that he wasn't hurt.

The fifth started with Fullmer pressing, but missing. Robinson moved in with a stiff right to the body. Sugar Ray drove another right to the body. Fullmer's guard dropped way down. Then Robinson whistled he left hook to the jaw.

Fullmer crumpled to the floor.
He writhed and rolled as Referee Frank Sikora counted to 10. Gene finally struggled on his feet but the fight was over.

"This 140th victory — and his 91st knockout in 153 pro bouts since 1940 — pointed Robinson for a meeting with welterweight champ Basilio probably at Yankee Stadium in mid-July, which could bring the biggest gate in ring history under the light-heavy division.

Fullmer's manager, Mary Jen-son, blamed his fighting defeat on his desire to fight a "spectacular" battle.

We kept warning him in the corner to keep high," said Jen-son. The bewildered Fullmer said in his dressing room "that's the first time I ever got knocked out and I don't know how it happened."

All three officials had Fullmer ahead by a close 10-18 margin after four rounds.

The crowd was announced as 14,751 paid with a gross gate of $153,645 and a net of $24,647. That was swayed by a $100,000 radio-TV fee and the share to each fighter, on a 30-30 basis, was a total of $67,344 apiece.

Robinson, who weighed 159 1/2 against Fullmer's 157 1/2, explained he was "just maneuvering" Fullmer.

"I used a right as a decoy," said Sugar Ray. "I wanted a clean shot with my left. I finally got it."

History has it that Forrest City, county seat of St. Francis County was not the original count seat.
During the early days, the little town of Madison, four miles east was the seat and remained so until a group of enterprising citizens of Forrest City took possession of all the records during the dead hours of night.

Spahn Cites Ages in Career of Baseball
